Area Dental Group Now Offers Sedation Dentistry
Relief for Patients with Dental Anxiety

Sedation Dentistry is a good option for patients who experience significant dental anxiety. ForwardDental is now offering oral sedation at the following locations: Glendale, Green Bay, Madison East, West Allis, New Berlin and Kenosha-Washington Road.

Is Sedation Dentistry Right for You? You may wish to consider oral sedation if you experience the following:

- Extreme fear or anxiety when facing a dental appointment
- Hypersensitive gag reflex
- Difficulty getting numb prior to dental procedures

You will recall little or nothing of your dental visit – lengthy procedures will seem to take only minutes.
